

15:22 Friday 31 July 2015 Written by Hannah Crouch

 Like  Tweet

Musicians from Langley Hall Primary Academy wow at Eton College concert

Singers and musicians from Langley Hall Primary Academy in Slough hit the right note at a concert at Eton College on Tuesday.

About 250 children from years three to six took part in the end of term concert which showcased the pupils' talents.

There were performances by the school's choir, African drumming club, string orchestra and cello ensemble.

"The concert was a resounding success and gave every child an opportunity to shine," said executive headteacher Sally Eaton.

"Parents were amazed at the progress their children had made in music and complemented the school on producing the concert."